

Don't think you have recourse to the government's arrogance?

Our state and local officials swore an oath to uphold the U.S. and Indiana constitutions. The loss of our individual freedoms and liberty mandated by Obamacare is not authorized in the U.S. Constitution.

Our governor and state legislators have a sacred obligation to protect Hoosiers from this all-intrusive power grab by the federal government.

Indiana officials must intercede on behalf of their citizens. For example, Thomas Jefferson and James Madison responded to the "Alien and Sedition Acts" with the Virginia and the Kentucky Resolution of 1798 to shield their citizens from the central government's tyranny. They said no. Our elected officials need to tell our central government "NO!"

Contact Governor Daniels and tell him to consider a state "interposition resolution" (the free exercise of making and enforcing contracts) for health-care mandates and follow-up legislation.
